

The NorthWords Writers Festival invites you to get rid of the February Blahs by joining Steven Galloway, author of the acclaimed Cellist of Sarajevo for a literary weekend in Yellowknife!

Practical Techniques of Fiction	Public Reading and Meet &amp; Greet
Workshop for serious emerging writers on elements of structure in short and long fiction. Sat. Feb. 13: 10:00 – 12:00, 1:00 – 5:00 Sun. Feb. 14: 10:00 – 12:00 Place: Aurora College, Room 308 Cost: $50, includes refreshments Register in advance at the Yellowknife Book Cellar (across from the Post Office) Numbers are limited, so register early!	Come and meet Steven Galloway and hear him read from his latest book The Cellist of Sarajevo. This event is free and open to the public. There will be time to ask questions and speak with the author. Refreshments will be provided. Date and Time: Sun. Feb. 14, 2:00 – 4:00 Place: Yellowknife Public Library Meeting Room Second Floor, Centre Square

About Steven: Steven Galloway is the author of three novels, most recently the international bestseller “The Cellist of Sarajevo,” which won the Borders New Voices Award, The Evergreen Award and the George Ryga Award, and was nominated for the Dublin Impac Prize, The Giller Prize, and the Ethel Wilson Prize. His work has been translated into over thirty languages. Galloway lives in New Westminster and teaches fiction writing at the University of British Columbia.